Aid cuts don't hurt Christian beliefs aid Faith Evangelical

by GLORIA DAVIS

With public schools in nationwide budgetary problems because of the cuts in federal and state aid to education, it is interesting to find how small parochial schools are fairing in the present low economy.

Since parochial schools have never been dependent on state or federal aid for operational monies, there would obviously be no change because of these cuts.

Melvin Schwartz, principal and teacher of Faith Evangelical Lutheran School on Rte. 83 on Antioch's south side, said that its operational monies are down slightly this year but the school actually has no real budget problems.

According to Schwartz, like all private schools, Faith Evangelical is completely dependent on contributions from the congregation for support.

Unlike Catholic schools, the support is all local, none comes from the Evangelical Lutheran Synod.

One-half of all monies donated by the congregation go for the support of the school.

When questioned about the possibility of contributions being down because of people being short of money, Schwartz answered, "All members of the congregation are responsible for the support of both the church and the school."

He added, "Our concept is different. We feel that this responsibility is as great as all our other bills and as constant, therefore we always give as much as we can to the Lord's work rather than to a specific need."

Schwartz said that expenses have risen along with the inflation but until this year donations had increased in keeping with inflation.

He added that, though that increase was slightly less this year, the school faced no financial problems.

The school, that has an enrollment of 100 students and a teaching staff of five besides Schwartz, charges no tuition for congregation members. There is a charge however for non-congregation members.

Fortins plead guilty

by GLORIA DAVIS

There will be no trial date set for Larry and Terri Fortin, Trevor, who appeared before Lake County Judge William Block for pretrial charges in connection with forgeries and thefts perpetrated against the Antioch Savings and Loan in 1982.

Larry Fortin pled guilty to six forgery charges and his wife Terri Fortin pled guilty to two forgery charges and four theft charges on Thursday, March 17.

According to the prosecutor, Assistant State's Atty. Matt Chancey, there is a possibility that the two could receive probation when sentenced by Block in May because neither has a prior criminal record.

Chancey added that, if the two receive prison sentences, they would probably range from two to five years.

The couple, both former employees of the savings and loan, were arrested by the Antioch Police Dept. and charged with the thefts and forgeries when they surrendered on Jan. 20.

Larry reportedly deposited checks that he forged from the company he worked for in its account at the savings and loan.

Terri, who worked as a proofer in the savings and loan's bookkeeping department, then destroyed the check and moved money around from other accounts to cover the deposit.

The couple allegedly got $11,000 in this manner.

Now that the first phase of the computer program being held at the schools in Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 has been implemented at the junior high level, the board of education has approved the purchase of 10 more computers.

According to Supt. Don Skidmore, nine Apple computers, at a cost of $1,396 each or a total of $12,564, will be purchased for use at the elementary level.

The board approved the purchase of a 10th one, at a cost of $1,395, to be used in Skidmore's office.

The Antioch Upper Grade School is slated to get three computers; the lower grade school, two; Oakland Grade School, two and W.C. Petty School, two.

The cost to the district for the nine computers will be $6,282, with the schools matching this with monies from student, PTO and unspent library funds.

10-year-old cyclist hit while crossing road

by GLORIA DAVIS

A 10-year-old Antioch Township boy, Christopher Varno, was struck by a car driven by George Braddock, 25, Spring Grove, at 8:18 a.m., on Thursday, March 17. Varno was taken to St. Therese Hospital, Waukegan, where he received emergency treatment for bleeding wounds and was released.

According to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., Braddock was eastbound on Grass Lake Rd. when he saw two boys riding bicycles, one on the north side and the other on the south side of the road.

Braddock said that he slowed down when he approached the cyclists but Varno, who was on the south side of the road, rode out directly in front of him, crossing the road.

A witness, traveling west on Grass Lake Rd., corroborated Braddock's statement that he tried to swerve to the left to avoid hitting the boy, but was unable to, striking the cycle in the left rear.

Varno reportedly was thrown onto the hood of Braddock's car. The accident occurred about one-tenth of a mile west of the intersection of Lake Ave. No citations were issued at the scene.

When I think about it Time to get out your tax time crying towel

by GLORIA DAVIS

If you are not one of the return-expectant early birds that have already filed their income tax forms, it's that annual torture time again.

Hopefully, now that the dreaded April 15 is less than a month away, you have recovered from the annual W2 Shock Syndrom that usually sets in at the end of January.

It is then that you are faced, in bold black and white, with the fact that you struggled out of bed every morning to get to your particular "sweat shop," for almost six months out of the past year, for the benefit of Uncle Sam.

The media reports that this year the average tax return is down because people are claiming less regular paycheck deductions.

And why not since one of the great inequities of our democratic system is the fact that Uncle Sam is able to charge astronomical interest on any monies being owed him but pays the taxpayer a big fat zero in interest for the use of monetary over-payments he has had in his possession for a year or more.

Regardless of the fact that there has been recent publicity on certain individuals who have been revolting against tax paying, it probably is still one of the two musts in our lives, unless one has a propensity for striped suits, or hanging around bars, the window kind.

And those International Revenue Service (IRS) boys are pretty tough, let me tell you, so unless you are an accountant or have an IQ of 150, can read sanskrit or just like to live dangerously, my advice would be to have a professional fill out your tax forms.

I have had do it yourself friends who have used logical deductions that the IRS did not look upon kindly.

I still agree with my pal that thought he could deduct veterinary charges for his pet since he "loved him like a son."

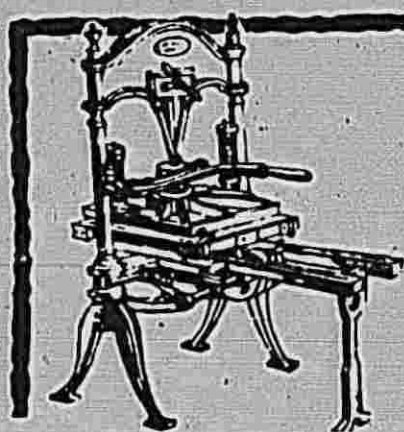

Truthfully, why can some people deduct the cost of their work uniforms and shoes yet one of my friends, who is a full-time housewife, was called to task by the IRS for deducting the jeans and sneakers she wears while performing her daily tasks.

I'm surprised that even the mighty IRS has the nerve to tell a housewife her work is not as tough or necessary as her husband's.

How's this for more double standard rationalization by the tax people, the non-deductibility of a badly needed vacation in the Bahamas.

This poor misguided soul thought the fact that he felt that he was a border-line nervous break down case, in need of a rest, came under medical deductions.

Oh well, since no modern-day Robin Hood looms on the horizon to lead the poor over-taxed payer to a lower taxed promise land, (maybe it's because those green tights might draw wink or two) our only alternative is to pay and weep but, just a warning, comes the revolution comrade!!!!

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Bob Diemer called the other day to see if he could issue a challenge in bold news print.

It seems that Diemer and Bill Brook would like to challenge Chief Chuck (Weaving) Miller and Lt. Tom (Guardrail Crashing) Fisher to a one on one race at the Wilmot Speedway, Wilmot, benefits to go to the Antioch Rotary Club. Diemer went on to mention words like yellow, chicken etc..

Lions donate glasses

The Antioch Lions Club turned over almost a hundred pairs of eye glasses to Zone Chairman James Knigge who is taking them to Central America this month where they will be dispensed free to those who need them.

Lion Knigge is serving as a volunteer in Costa Rica with SVOSH (Student Volunteers for Optometric Services to Humanity) and will act as their official photographer on this trip.

Each year doctors and students from the Southern College of Optometry in Memphis, Tenn. donate their time, talent and services in a Central or South American country.

Working with the Lions Clubs, they examine the residents and dispense eye glasses free of charge. Improved vision is given to hundreds of youngsters, adults and senior citizens.

Lion Ray Edwards, chairman of the Committee for Sight and Hearing Impaired Services, presented the eye glasses to Knigge just prior to his departure for Central America.

Edwards commended the people of Antioch for their generosity. He said a hearing aid was donated in addition to the scores of eye glasses. The Lions Club is anxious to get anyone's old discarded eye glasses with or without lenses and hearing aids. They will be recycled and make someone very happy.

TO CIRCUS

The Chain O' Lakes Shrine Club took 600 area school children to the Medina Shrine Circus on Wednesday, March 16 in Chicago. This is the 12th year this was done.

Polley to speak on meditation

Jim Polley, a Transcendental Meditation instructor, will be speaking on "The Transcendental Meditation Program and Reversal of Aging" Monday, March 28. The free public lecture will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Antioch Township Library, 757 Main St.

According to Polley, "findings indicate that the longer a person practices the TM technique, the younger he or she becomes biologically. This is according to a study published in the February 1982 issue of the International Journal of Neuroscience."

The study showed that people who had been practicing the TM technique regularly up to five years were found, on the average, to be five years younger biologically than the average population.

Those who had been meditating more than five years were on the average 12 years younger biologically than their stated age. The study used 84 subjects and the average age was 53. The measurements used were blood pressure, hearing ability, and near vision applied to a standardized index of aging called the "Morgan Adult Growth Examination."

Polley is a 1970 graduate of Antioch Community High School. He has been a TM instructor since 1976.

Would you hold up this train for $500,000,000?

It comes from mines in Montana and Wyoming.
Twenty-eight times a week.

And the cargo it carries is coal. Low-sulfur coal.
The fuel for close to half of the electricity northern Illinois runs on every day.

In case you don't think that's worth a whole lot, think about this. Using coal to make the other half would have cost an extra five-hundred-million dollars last year.

That's what we saved by using uranium instead.

The fact is, it takes a mountain of coal—over one-hundred-thousand tons—to equal the energy we get from just one ton of uranium.

If that's hard to picture, imagine a train ten miles long. Car after car after car after car. Nine-hundred-ninety-six cars in all, each filled to the top with coal. Versus just one car, empty except for one small corner of uranium.

In terms of savings, the difference is just as enormous. We weren't exaggerating. Five-hundred-million dollars last year alone. Or sixty dollars every year for a typical residential customer.

It's not chicken feed. But it's not enough either. The more of those twenty-eight trains a week we can hold up, the more you can save.

PM&L to host ghost

Rehearsals are well under way for PM&L's upcoming production of John Cecil Holm's play, "Gramercy Ghost." It is the story of a young, New York career woman, Nancy Willard; she has inherited a ghost, Nathaniel Coombes, from her elderly landlady, Miss Bullock.

Nathaniel is a Revolutionary War spy, and he cannot get into Heaven because he failed to deliver an important message for General George Washington. Instead, he spent too much time with a tavern lass that fateful night in 1775, and was ambushed the next morning.

Nancy is engaged to Parker Burnett, a young, stuffy businessman. He doesn't believe in the ghost, and since Nancy is the only person who can see Nathaniel, Parker treats her like a harmless lunatic when Nancy claims to see Nathaniel.

Charley Stewart, a reporter who wants to do a story on the odd Miss Bullock, meets Nancy and begins to fall in love with her. When she sees the ghost, he begins to believe her; since he is a reporter, he hunts for information and finds there really was a Nathaniel Coombes who disappeared while delivering a message for George Washington.

He tries to find the message, and when it is delivered to a descendant of the man who was supposed to receive it, Nathaniel is allowed to enter Heaven, but not without a lot of hilarious complications.

The outstanding cast includes Donna O'Donnell of Lake Villa, Nancy; Tim Holt of Wildwood, Charley Stewart; Paul Beemsterboer of Grayslake, Parker Burnett; Pat Kerr of Antioch, Nathaniel; Lyn Kessie of Richmond, Margaret Collins; Dave Carlson of Lake Villa, Officer Morrison; Chris Cary of Antioch, Irv Jenkins; Mike Giebelhaus of Antioch, Rocky Glover; Donna Warner of Antioch, Ambulance Driver; Patty Workman of Fox Lake, Driver's Assistant; Dorie Hubbard of Antioch, Augusta Ames; Marie Marseglia of Fox Lake, Molly.

Larry Bullman of Ingleside is making his PM&L directing debut with this show. He is ably assisted by Dave Carlson and Marie Marseglia as stage manager and assistant, respectively.

Play dates are April 8, 9, 15, 16, 22 and 23 at 8:30 p.m., with a Sunday matinee performance April 17 at 2:30 p.m.

All performances are at PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch. Call (312) 395-3055 for reservations.

23 years at ACHS

McLean will retire

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education of Antioch High School the board accepted with regrets the resignation of Lucien McLean. McLean has served the district as social studies instructor for 23 years and plans to retire at the end of the school year.

The board also approved the filing of the district one and five year vocational plan with the director of adult, vocational and technical education of the state.

Business Manager Kenneth Wierschem reported on the progress of the planning of a county wide microcomputer consortium. The planning is being organized by the regional superintendent of school's office. As many as 40 Lake County schools could be involved in the cooperative effort.

Principal Arthur Blecke reported that Antioch Community High School would be participating in the Northwest Suburban Conference Spelling Contest with the local competition starting Tuesday, March 22, finals Thursday, April 14, and conference contest Thursday, May 12, at Wauconda.

Antioch will also be competing at the Stevenson High School Invitational Academic Bowl on Saturday, April 9.

The Director of Curriculum Gary Allen reported current student enrollment for 1983-84 totals 1,667. This figure is virtually the same as this year.

Flossing A Fixed Bridge

Q. Recently, my dentist gave me a fixed bridge. How do I floss this area, as well as a new cast crown?

A. These additions to your mouth require added care when you floss. A solid bridge does not permit direct insertion of the working arc of floss that is used under ordinary conditions. Instead, the floss must be threaded beneath the bridge, which means you need a floss-threader. This is a small gadget very similar to a sewing-needle threader. It's easy enough to purchase, and just as easy to use, once you learn how.

A dental irrigator will also help to flush out food particles which may collect under the fixed bridge.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,
OPTOMETRIST
Two For One Contacts

If you've reached the point where you need bifocal corrective lenses to see well at a distance as well as close up, you don't have to opt for bifocal lenses.

If you've been wearing contact lenses and don't want to lose the comfortable feeling or natural look of your face, you can have separate contact lenses made for each eye. One will correct for distance vision, the other for near vision.

This may seem an unusual solution to bifocal needs, but it works. When you're looking at something, both eyes will see what you're looking at. But the eye that sees the object sharp and clear will dominate. This means that your brain will see a sharp and clear image.

And even though one eye will only transmit a blurred image, you won't be aware of it. You will, if you put one hand over the eye that has the lens for that kind of vision (farsighted or nearsighted, depending on where you're looking). Then the only image you get will be a blurred one. Otherwise you'll see clearly at all times and never be aware of the difference.
